Criteria: A B C D Considerations: A B C D E F G None

Justification for decision: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map)

The Heater/Crown Farm at 10000 Fields Road, in Montgomery County, is not considered eligible for listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

The Heater/Crown Farm is a small farm complex consisting of a dwelling, two barns and several domestic outbuildings, including a creamery and a chicken house. The dwelling, built in the first decade of the 20th century, is a two-story, three-bay frame house with a two-story rear ell. The house is covered with a cross gable roof and is characterized by its central gable and porch with scroll sawn columns and brackets. The creamery, chicken house and other domestic sheds are located immediately behind the main house and date from the mid-20th century. Two barns are found between the main house and the fields; one is a gable frame barn with vertical siding from 1927, the other a pre-fab structure from the 1960s.

In 1981, this property was evaluated by SHA and MHT as part of the ICC project and determined not eligible to the National Register. However, because of the increasing conversion of farmland to non-agricultural uses in Montgomery County, SHA re-evaluated the property as part of this project and determined it, along with an adjacent farm also in Crown family hands, eligible. Based upon the information provided, however, it does not appear that the property meets any of the three criterion for listing on the National Register. The property does provide a link to the agrarian history of Montgomery County, but is not known to have played a vital role or had a significant impact on the farming industry in Montgomery County. The property is a representative example of a small farm complex from this century and thus does not qualify under Criterion A. The property is not known to have associations with persons significant to our past and is thus not eligible under Criterion B. The buildings making up the farm complex lack distinctiveness and do not qualify for listing under Criterion C.

Documentation on the property/district is presented in: MHT Inventory Files
