9. Description: This seven bay by two bay, irregularly massed house is set back from the road and hidden from view by a hill. It faces south and was built in three major sections: the original two bay, one-and-a-half story log house was built first in 1852; attached to it was two bay, one-story log house (a frame second story was added later); a three bay, two-and-a-half story frame house was added to the east of the center section. House is now covered in green novelty siding except on south elevation, two west bays where the logs with concrete chinking are exposed. Two lean-to additions on north elevation came later. House has six-over-six double-hung windows, gable and shed roofs. The west gable roof has molded plastic shingles which resemble wooden shingles and the remaining roofs are covered by green raised seam metal. There is an abandoned quarry, log spring house, and cemetery on the property.

10. Significance: This is a house which began as a simple log building and was attractively expanded as the fortunes of its owner increased.

Gustavus Jones, a wheelwright in Brookeville, began assembling land for his own farm in the 1850s, eventually owning more than 100 acres. He first constructed the two-room log house, which now constitutes the eastern two rooms of the expanded house, making a substantial addition by the time of his death in 1896. His son, William P. Jones, farmed the land and added further acreage to the farm, but sold the entire property out of the family in 1920 to J. Rucker Porter. After one interim owner, the property passed to its present owner in 1944.

The earliest stones in the cemetery are dated 1853.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This seven bay by two bay, irregularly massed house is set back from the road and hidden from view by a hill. It faces south.

The house was built in three sections: the oldest section was a two bay, one and a half story log house; attached to the east was a two bay one story log addition (the frame second story was erected sometime afterwards). A three bay frame addition was built to the east of this center section. The house now has green novelty siding, except on the south elevation where the original log walls (chinked now with concrete) of the original two bay log house are exposed. On the north elevation there is a three bay one story frame addition at the corner and a one bay addition on the west corner (but not covering the west log house).

The house has a south porch with a half-hipped roof supported by four square posts. There are three glass and wooden paneled doors on the south elevation. The door leading into the west log section has a shed hood. There is a west glass and wooden paneled door which leads into the two story north lean-to. There are six over six double hung windows throughout the house flanked by black wooden louvered shutters.

The house has gabled and shed roofs. The remaining roof has molded plastic shingles which resemble wooden shingles. The rest of the roofs are covered by green raised seam metal. There is a chimney at the east end of the original log house and an interior end chimney at the east end of the house.

According to the present tenant, Mrs. Stanley Stabler, the house was renovated in 1954, with new floors being laid and the kitchen being moved to its present location in the log section. At that time the old spiral stairs to the log loft were removed and new stairs added in the newer rear section. Two other older stairwells remain: one in the second log room, now in the middle of the house and used as a dining room, and one in the furthest room to the west, a later addition, now the living room.

This house has a lovely setting. A beautiful stream flows south of the house. To the southwest is a log house, possibly a smokehouse, with A-V notches and a gable roof with wooden shingle covering. Northeast of the house are two barns and to the south is a board and batten bank barn. There is an abandoned quarry, log spring house, and cemetery on the property.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This well-maintained property is a fine example of a house which began as a simple log building and was attractively expanded, apparently as the fortunes of its owner increased. Gustavus Jones, with whom this farm is associated, first appeared in the records of Montgomery County in 1850. In the Census list of that year<sup>1</sup> Gustavus Jones, 31, is listed as a wheelwright owning a lot in Brookeville. Listed as a member of his household is Columbus Jones, 28, presumably his brother, a blacksmith. In 1852 Gustavus Jones was assessed only for a house lot in Brookeville, but it would appear that soon thereafter he moved to the farm which still bears his name, as the two earliest gravestones in the Jones family cemetery near the house are dated 1853. One marker is that of the brother, Columbus Jones born 1821, died 1853, the other that of "Columbus W., son of Gustavus and Elizabeth Jones, March 8, 1852, died August 1853."

By 1855 Gustavus began assembling his own farm, paying $1000 for 17 acres from Anna Jones,<sup>2</sup> and $1200 for 31 acres from Josiah W. Jones.<sup>3</sup> In 1864 he added 65 more acres to his farm.<sup>4</sup> The 1866 Assessment Records show no assessment for an improvement on his 104 acres although he was assessed for household furnishings.<sup>5</sup> This may mean that no substantial addition had yet been made to the two room log house which now constitutes the eastern two rooms of the expanded house. There is no doubt that a dwelling did exist at that time: besides the existence of the cemetery, the 1864 Martinet and Bond map shows a dwelling in this location. By 1870 the Census Records<sup>6</sup> for Montgomery County indicate Gustavus Jones, 50, farmer, as having $4000 in real property and $1000 in personal property. Included in his household at the time were his wife Elizabeth A., 45, 4 sons, 2 daughters, and Annie Jones, 84 years old, who was also buried in the cemetery in 1874. By the 1876 Assessment<sup>7</sup> an improvement on the property is assessed at $800, and by 1894 the value jumped to $1304,<sup>8</sup> probably indicating an addition.

Upon the death of Gustavus Jones in 1896 the farm passed to his son, William P. Jones.<sup>9</sup> William added additional acreage to the farm but sold the entire property out of the family in 1920 to J. Rucker Porter.<sup>10</sup> After one interim owner the property of 145.81 acres passed to its present owner, Charles H. Ligon in 1944.

IMPLEMENTATION

Once designated on the Master Plan for Historic Preservation, any substantial changes to the exterior of a resource or its environmental setting must be reviewed by the Historic Preservation Commission and a historic area work permit issued. The Ordinance also empowers the County's Department of Environmental Protection and the Historic Preservation Commission to prevent the demolition of historic buildings through neglect.

It is the intent of the Master Plan and Ordinance to provide a rational system for evaluating, protecting and enhancing Montgomery County's heritage for the benefit of present and future residents. The accompanying challenge is to weave protection for this heritage into the County's planning program so as to maximize community support for preservation and minimize infringement on private property rights.

THE AMENDMENT

The purpose of this Preliminary Draft Amendment is to consider the Montgomery County Historic Preservation Commission's recommendations that the following sites be designated on the Master Plan for Historic Preservation and protected under the County's Historic Preservation Ordinance, Chapter 24A of the Montgomery County Code. A copy of the Ordinance is provided in Appendix B of this document.

(NOTE: Unless otherwise specified in the Preservation Commission's nomination, the recommended environmental setting for each site is the entire parcel on which the resource is located as of the date it is designated on the Master Plan as defined in Section 24A-2 of the County's Preservation Ordinance. Where additional buildings of historical or architectural importance are associated with a site, these buildings are noted in the nomination as being part of the recommended setting.)

Atlas #	Site	Location
15/55	Spencer/Carr House	2420 Spencerville

- Dating from 1855 with a rear section added in the 1870's, this three-story house is distinguished by three over three windows on the third floor and a one-story porch with bracketed pillars on the front facade.
- Significant as an example of the "Spencerville style", a local style characterized by a special grouping of architectural detail most notably half windows on the third story extending into the boxed cornice and roof line.

- L-shaped dwelling consists of a wing built in 1869 and a 1906 section which replaced the original 1860 structure on the site. The building sequence results in a striking example of transitional architecture with one wing in the Gothic Revival style, the other typical, turn-of-the-century rural vernacular architecture.
- Included in the recommended setting is a fine collection of outbuildings, several of stone, several of board and batton.

23/58

Gustavus Jones Farm 4112 Brookeville Road

- Circa 1852 -- Simple log dwelling expanded by another log section and finally by a substantial frame addition in the 1890's.
- Excellent example of rural vernacular architecture reflective of the increasing prosperity of its middle-class owner.
- The recommended environmental setting of approximately 15 acres includes a log smokehouse, a fine collection of farm buildings, and the Jones family cemetery with stones dating from 1853.

23/63

Longwood 2900 Dubarry Lane

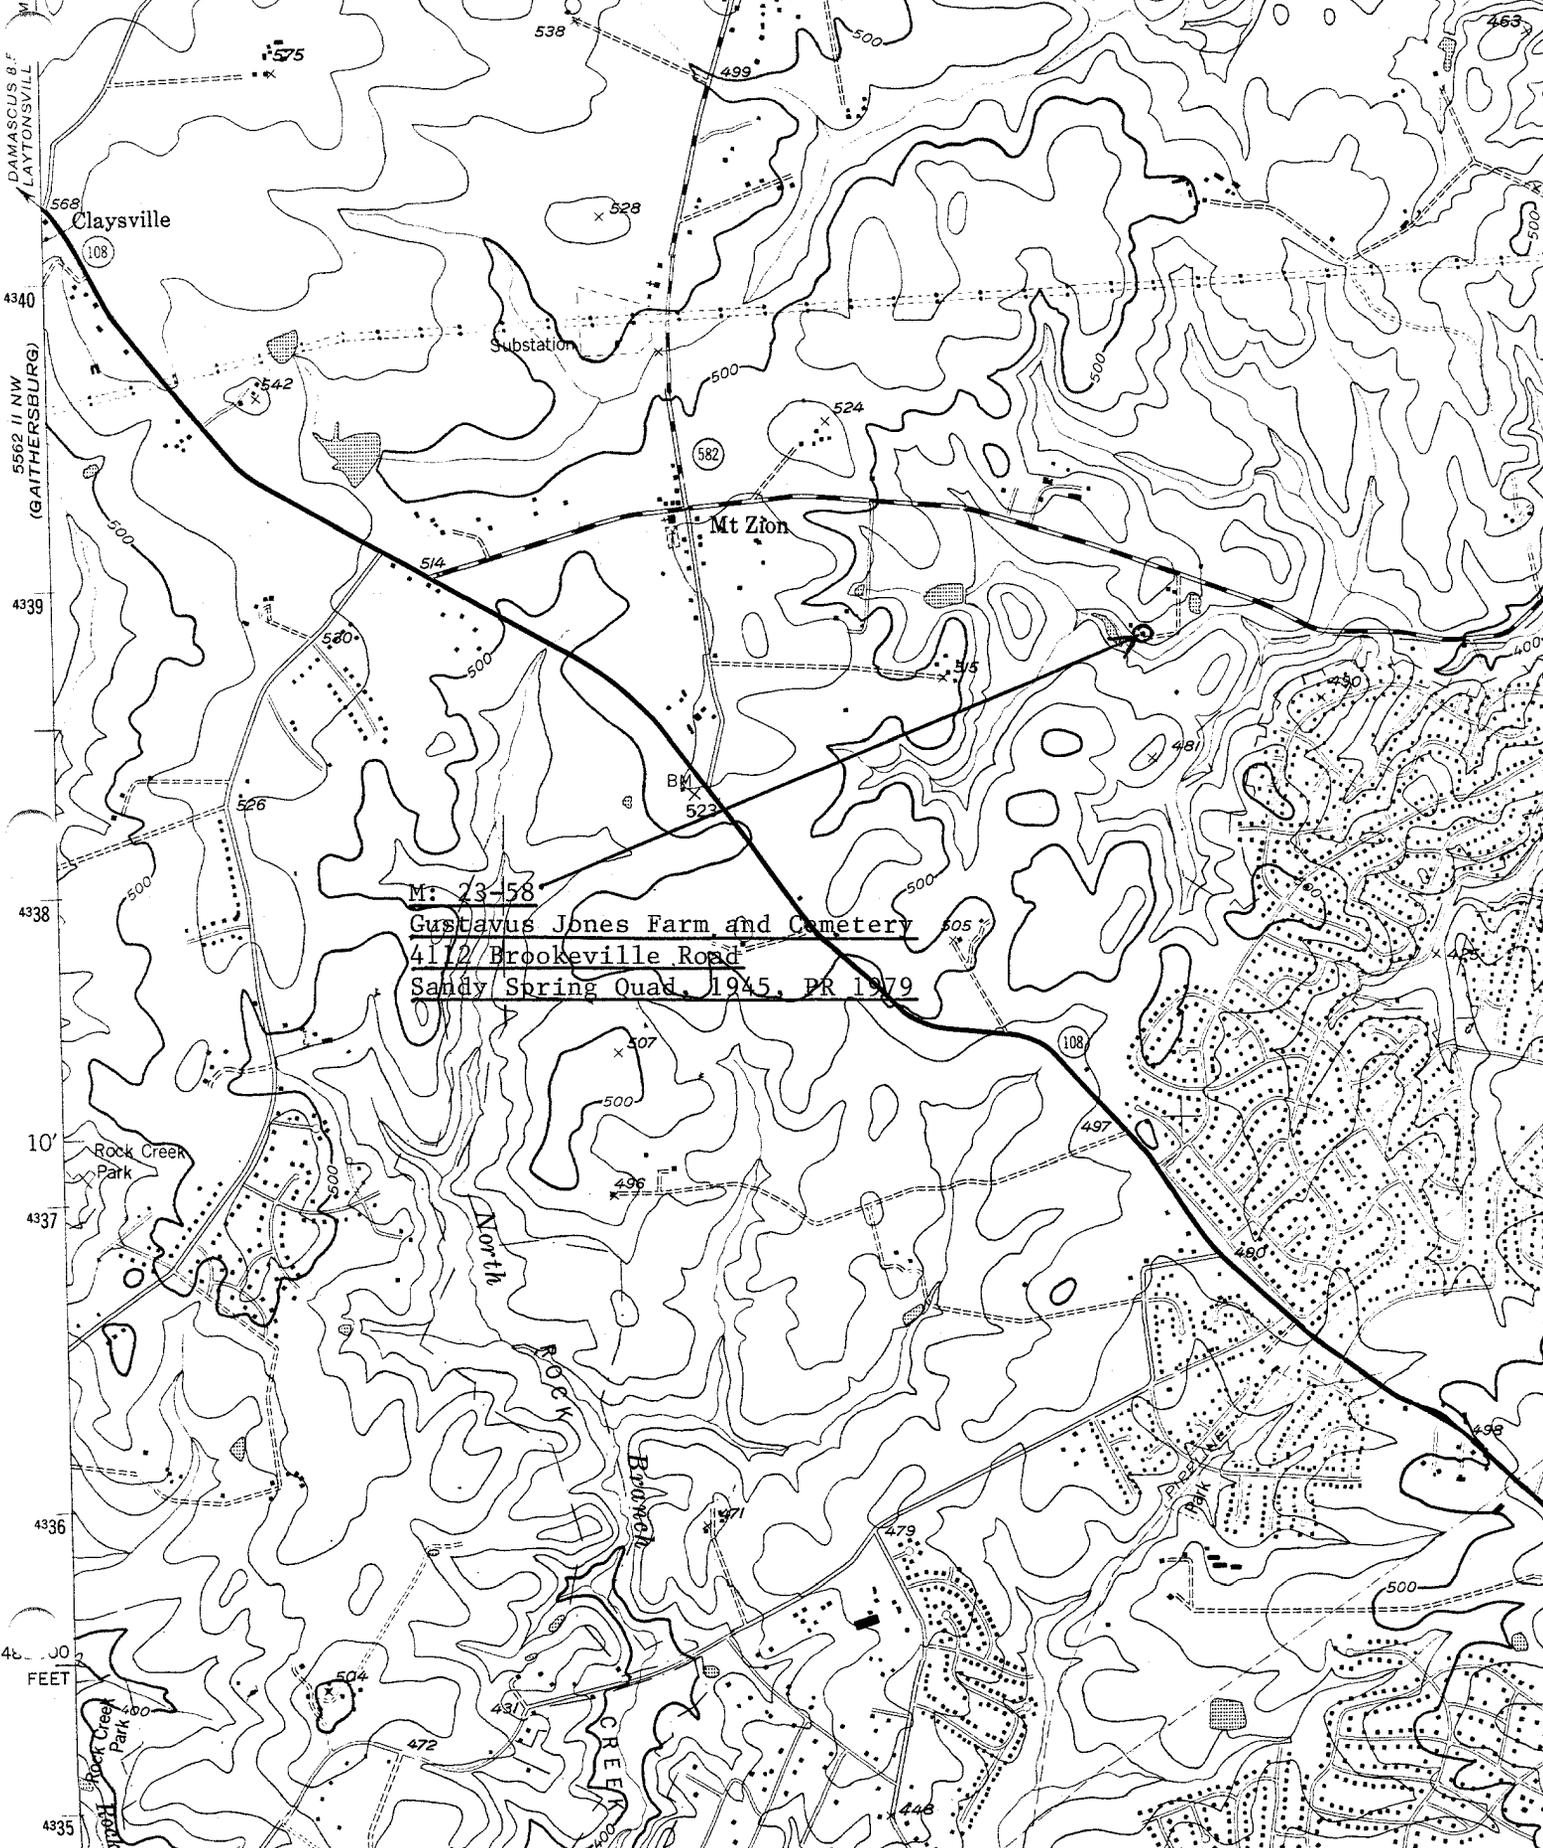

- Built in 1817, this large, two and one-half story, white brick house features a two-story pillared portico and distinctive inverted U chimney caps on the four interior end chimneys.
- Home of Thomas Moore, distinguished scholar, inventor, civil engineer and friend of Thomas Jefferson and James Madison. Also associated with the Brooke family, prominent early settlers of the Olney area.
- Served in the 20th century as the Longwood Preparatory School for boys started in 1946.

23/64

Oak Grove 19201 Georgia Avenue

- Circa 1850 -- Well proportioned, late Federal style, common bonded brick house.
- Work of a master builder as evidenced by the detailing in the window sills and lintels and in the cornice of brick dentils along the front roof line.
- The recommended environmental setting of approximately 5 acres should be equi-distant around the house to preserve its integrity.
