This two bay by three bay, two and a half story rectangular building faces northeast.

Built on fieldstone foundations, the building has white stuccoed walls. There is a southwest one story lean-to addition with a shed roof. The northeast (front) double wooden paneled doors are surmounted by a two light transom. There are six over six double hung windows throughout the building. The kitchen wing has been removed.

The gable roof has corrugated metal covering. There is one interior chimney.

Inside, the original hand-hewn beams are still visible, as well as the upstairs pressed tin ceiling.

There are two outhouses southeast of the Hall. Directly northeast is a large hand pump.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The rural community known as Travilah had grown to such a size by 1910 that there was a need for a meeting hall to house public events. To fill this need, George R. Rice, Harrison G. Ward, Halton A. Waters, Agnes Fisher and Ollie R. Linthicum formed the Travilah Hall Company of Montgomery County, on March 29, 1910. The purpose of the corporation was "the building and maintaining of a house or hall to be used for public purposes and for the meeting of such educational or other associations as may exist or be formed in the neighborhood..."<sup>1</sup>

The land for the hall, purchased from George F. and Ollie R. Linthicum in June 1911, was described in the deed as being part of "Lot No. 2, marked at one corner with a stone bearing "Jas Orme 1786'."<sup>2</sup>

The construction of the Hall was made possible by a loan of $500 from John S. Attwood to the Corporation. In 1918 the Corporation defaulted on the mortgage and the building was put up for public auction. The Hall was described at that time as:

a two-story frame pebble-dashed building containing two rooms, one on each floor, with a one-story kitchen attached, used heretofore as the town hall of the Village. It fronts on the road from Travilah to Darnestown, nearly opposite the Baptist Church.<sup>3</sup>

John H. Gray and his wife bought this property and it appears that its use as a town hall declined as time went on. Paul Mills, an elderly member of the community, recalls attending strawberry festivals and minstrel shows at the Hall between 1910 and about 1920.<sup>4</sup> Carol W. Snyder, whose father, Preston L. Snyder, bought the farm land surrounding and including the Hall in the 1920s recalls that the Hall was still being used for social events in the 1920s. However, around 1933 or '34, Mr. Snyder had the building remodeled into five low-rent apartments with outside toilet facilities. The last tenants left in the late 1960s. In the 1970s Mrs. Snyder used the building to store furniture and farm equipment from her adjoining farm. In 1978 she sold the Hall to two men who intended to make it into a shop,<sup>5</sup> which has not occurred.

Today the building stands empty. The future use of the Hall is complicated by the small size of the lot which does not allow the septic tank system that the County now requires if the building is to be used.

10. Significance: Travilah Hall is significant as one of the few remaining structures of the rural community of Travilah, meeting one of the needs of the self-contained and slower paced early 20th century communities.

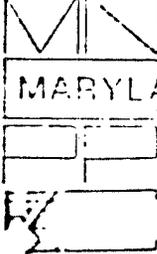

Travilah had grown enough by 1910 that there was a need for a meeting hall to house public events. Five men formed the Travilah Hall Company of Montgomery County to build and maintain "a house or hall to be used for public purposes and for the meeting of such educational or other associations as may exist or be formed in the neighborhood..." From 1910 to 1930 it was used first as a town hall, and then after 1918 when the corporation defaulted on its mortgage, for social events.

Preston L. Snyder bought the building in the 1920's and remodeled (c.1933) it into 5 low-rent apartments with outside toilet facilities. The last tenants left in the 1960s. It was used for storage until purchased in 1978 by two men who hoped to convert it into a shop. Standing empty today, its future is complicated by the small size of its lot in relation to county septic field requirements.
