Description:

The Ronald Robinson Property is a 1½-story, 3-bay front-gable cottage on the north side of Cape May Road in the Cloverly vicinity, Montgomery County. Constructed in 1943, the building is rectangular in plan with a flat-roof front porch and a gable roof rear addition.

The structure has a front-gable roof covered with asphalt shingles and has an interior brick chimney located east of the roof ridge. It is of wood-frame construction with brick veneer siding on the first story and German wood siding on the second story of the original section. The addition is covered with vinyl siding. The house has a concrete block foundation. The windows are wood 6/6 double-hung and the house has a 1-story porch on the front elevation. The porch has a flat-roof supported by two wood posts on a concrete floor, a square wood railing and wooden balustrade.

There is one outbuilding associated with this building. The outbuilding is a shed with a gable roof covered with asphalt shingles. Constructed circa 1980, it is of wood-frame construction with vertical wood siding. The structure is located north of the house. Also on the property is an above-ground swimming pool located immediately north of the house and south of the shed.

The property is located on the north side of Cape May Road, with residential property to the north, east and west and forested land to the south. The property's setting is unaltered from its historic character. The house is situated among residences of similar scale and orientation to the road.
