This is a small, frame farmhouse built in two sections. The main part is a small, two-story, clapboard structure. Attached to this on the east is a small, one-story, kitchen-type wing. This latter section is believed to be the portion built of logs. It is possible that this was built sometime after the 1870's. The site is quite secluded in a pine woods thicket, and sits near the edge of a cliff overlooking a vast sand and gravel quarry.
