Art Deco Gas Station, site
Carroll and Ethan Allen Avenues, Takoma Park
Washington West Quadrangle

[Excerpt from "Automobile-related Structures of Early Twentieth Century Montgomery County" by Andrea Rebeck, 1987. MHT Library # FRR Mont 12, p. 7]

In the 1930's the Art Deco style was applied to many commercial buildings, and gas stations were no exception. Of the relatively intact stations in the County, only one remains (at this writing) which displays Art Deco styling. This is the small gas station at the intersection of Carroll and Ethan Allen Avenues in Takoma Park, MD. It was built sometime between 1935 and 1941, according to the Klinge Atlases. Faced in smooth cement stucco, the building has lines intended to give it a vertical emphasis, thus attempting, as so many Art Deco buildings did, to make a modest building more impressive.
