Based on the available information, the house located approximately 500 feet west of Lottsford Road in the Brightseat vicinity, does not appear to meet the National Register criteria for individual listing. The small, frame, single story house with equilateral hip roof is an extremely common early 20th century house type throughout the south. As this house does not appear to have any particular significance and is in poor condition, it is unlikely to be eligible under Criterion C. It is not known to have been associated with any significant event or person and thus unlikely to be eligible under Criteria A and B. It is not located in any known historic district.
