DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This is a cleared hilltop site, overlooking Swan Creek to the north. The old house has been gone for many years, and only a metal historical marker indicates the site (which was included in the condemnation of lands acquired for the construction of Ft. Washington, during the War of 1812.)

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This was the Colonial seat of the Digges family, who were prominent in Maryland affairs of that period. They were close friends of George Washington's, and both parties often visited each other from their plantations on opposite sides of the River here. It is particularly interesting to note that one of the few known Revolutionary War encounters in this area took place when British ships reached here in 1781.
