Description of Property and Eligibility Determination (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

Likely constructed circa 1940, this structure was built in an area responding to intensified suburbanization following the construction of MD 210 and related to the expansion of federal offices and military installations in the county. This small, side-gabled, one story house has a shed-roofed central porch entry located between two windows, with an out-of-scale, shed-roofed addition extending east. Now clad in vinyl siding, this wood frame cottage maintains a recessed panel door. Replacement windows are notable out of scale with the diminutive size of the structure.

Research has not revealed any association between this structure and events that have made a significant contribution to the broad patterns of our history (Criterion A) or the lives of persons significant in the past (Criterion B). The building is not a good example of any style; nor is it distinguished; it does not represent the work of a master or display high artistic merit (Criterion C). Although archeology was not addressed in this study, there is no indication that the property is likely to yield information important in history or pre-history (Criterion D). Therefore, this property is not eligible for the National Register.
