The house at 112 Kehm Road is located on the south side of Kehm Road, east of Bennett Point Road near Queenstown, in Queen Anne's County, MD. The property is not eligible for individual listing on the National Register of Historic Places.

According to the available information, the dwelling was erected in 1890. It is a two-story, two-bay frame dwelling covered with a gable roof. A two-story, one-bay addition abuts one end elevation, while a contemporary shed-roof wing extends off of this addition. The dwelling is typical of the late 19th-century, rural domestic architecture of the region and lacks the architectural distinctiveness necessary to qualify it for listing in the National Register under Criterion C. The property is not known to have any associations with persons or events important to our past and thus does not meet Criteria A or B.
