Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

This building is an example of late-nineteenth century domestic architecture that retains little of its historic character or integrity. Its original form has been altered by the construction of the shed roofed addition. The replacement of doors and windows, and the installation of vinyl siding have compromised its integrity. The building is not architecturally significant nor is it associated with an important historic figure or event. Therefore, it is recommended not eligible for the National Register of Historic Places under Criteria A, B or C.
