DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Eberhard House located south of Barber is a small farmhouse composed of two three bay long sections, one being two storys tall and the other one story. Both sections are built upon brick piers and are covered with brown wood shingles. Across the facade of the two story section is a one story porch. On both storys are two windows with 6/6 sash. There is a central door on the first story, as there is in the wing. A small chimney rises between the two sections. The wing appears to be earlier due to its form and the pitch of the roof, however, without seeing the structure it is impossible to ascertain the date or sequence of the building since the covering and trim is early 20th century.
