Margaret Wells House
St. Michaels
private

c. 1850-1875

Construction of the Margaret Wells house is estimated to date to the third quarter of the nineteenth century during the ownership of Hugh Marshall, who purchased this lot along with the adjacent corner lot facing Locust Street in 1846 from John Leaverton. At the estate settlement of Hugh Marshall in 1874, "Lot 21" was described as, "...a lot and two houses on the corner of Carpenter's Alley and Locust Street." The estate trustees, H. H. Goldsborough and William G. Roberts sold the property to John Jefferson in 1874. Margaret E. Wells acquired part ownership of the house in 1963 with Agnes Alverta Bailey who had acquired the house in 1923.

With its two-bay elevation and center chimney plan, the two-story frame house carries a different appearance than many St. Michaels dwellings from the same period.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The Margaret Wells house is located at 107 Carpenter Street in the center of St. Michaels, Talbot County, Maryland. The two-story, two-bay frame house faces south with the principal gable oriented on an east/west axis. Supported by a minimal brick foundation, the asbestos shingled house is covered by a medium pitched roof of asphalt tiles. Attached to the back of the house is a single-story one room plan kitchen wing.

The south (main) facade is an uneven two-bay elevation with the entrance fixed in the east bay and a six-over-six sash window to the west. Louvered shutters flank the window and the front door is framed by sidelights and a transom. Stretching across the first floor is a chamfered post front porch with a simple spindle brackets and a square baluster handrail. The second floor is lighted by two six-over-six sash windows. The base of the roof is finished with a boxed cornice with a crown molding. A narrow brick chimney partially covered in stucco protrudes through the center of the house.

The west gable end has two six-over-six sash windows on each floor. The eaves are slightly extended, and short returns finish the base of the roof. The east gable end is an uninterrupted asbestos shingled wall.

Partially covering the north (back) side of the house is a single-story one-room plan kitchen covered by a steeply pitched asphalt shingle roof. A stuccoed brick chimney rises from the gable end of the kitchen, and a shed roofed room extends from the north wall. The east and west side of the kitchen are marked by six-over-six sash windows, and a partially glazed side door pierces the west side as well.

The interior of this house has not been surveyed.

SIGNIFICANCE

The Margaret Wells house is a modest two-story frame house that dates to the third quarter of the nineteenth century. With its two-bay elevation and center chimney plan, the frame house is somewhat different than the rest of St. Michaels dwellings, and therefore provides an interesting contrast.

HISTORY AND SUPPORT

Construction of the Margaret Wells house is estimated to date to the third quarter of the nineteenth century during the ownership of Hugh Marshall, who purchased this lot along with adjacent corner lot facing Locust Street in 1846 from John Leaverton . (60/70) At the estate settlement of Hugh Marshall, "Lot 21" probably included the corner lot and Locust Street as well as this Carpenter Street Lot. The estate description detailed the town property as, "a lot and two houses on the corner of Carpenter's Alley and Locust Street." (Chancery Court Records, 12/415) The estate trustees, H. H. Goldsborough and William G. Roberts sold the property to John Jefferson in 1874. (80/429) Margaret E. Wells acquired part ownership of the house in 1963 with Agnes Alverta Bailey who had purchased the property as early as 1923. (196/93)

NOTES: Public Auction. The lot is identified in the sale as "lot number 3". The proceedings of the Chancery Court are recorded in 1876, 12/415. The case is very long and involves 11 pieces of property. There is some confusion as the lot number three is not previously identified in the listing of Marshall's lots. It may have been included in "a lot and two houses on the corner of Carpenter's Alley and Locust Street"; Hugh Marshall purchased the corner lot on Carpenters and Locust (Survey No. T-563) from John Leaverton in 1846, 60/76, the deed referring to a "framed house and lot". The lot was approximately 60 x 120 (on Carpenter Street) and would be lot 21, with the adjacent lot being number 22 on Carpenter Street. If Hugh Marshall buys "a frame house and lot" in 1846 and his estate sells TWO houses and two lots in 1874, it would place the erection of the Wells house between 1846 and 1874 while the lot was in the possession of Hugh Marshall.

The chain-of-title would follow that of T-563 (Mrs. Marshall - Locust St) back through Mary Ann Ash, John Harrison, Joseph Harrison and the Harrison's of "Joseph's Lot".
