c. 1870

107 East Chestnut Street has been recently remodeled (1986), but efforts were made to retain a late nineteenth-century exterior appearance. The turned post porch as well as the Victorian sash windows are consistent features shared by adjacent houses. 107 East Chestnut Street stands in a line of late nineteenth-century dwellings and adds to the period character of the street.

Although the chain-of-title for this property does not indicate an undisputed builder for the house, the structure appears by 1877 on the town map and architectural features support a third quarter of the nineteenth century date. The house may have been erected for Samuel Burns, who purchased the property from relatives in 1871. William A. and Fatima Burns owned the property directly east during the same period.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

107 East Chestnut Street is a two-story, three-bay frame house located in the center of St. Michaels, Talbot County, Maryland. The house faces south with the principal gable oriented on an east/west axis.

Built around 1875, the two-story frame house is supported by a minimal brick foundation and clad with an uniform layer of asbestos shingles. The medium pitched gable roof is covered with asphalt shingles. Attached to the back of the house is a two-story service wing that was erected in 1928.

The south (main) facade is a three-bay elevation with a center entrance and flanking two-over-two sash windows. The front door is a replacement. Sheltering the entire first floor is a hip roof front porch supported by turned posts. A square baluster handrail stretches between each pair of posts and decorative brackets highlight the porch posts. The second floor is pierced by three two-over-two sash windows that are flanked by aluminum shelters.

The east gable end is marked by a single two-over-two sash that lights the first floor, and a new arched window has been added to the upper gable. The eaves extend slightly beyond the wall surface. The west gable is a plain wall aside from the new arched window opening in the upper gable. Extending from the north side is the two-story, one-bay kitchen wing attached to the house by the previous owner in 1928. A shed addition extends from the back of the 1928 addition.

The interiors have been modified through the years. The stair was apparently rebuilt at the time of the rear wing. A heavy, square newel post with paneled sides along with square balusters support a molded handrail. At the same time the hall partition was removed which made the first floor space one large room. The second floor has been reworked as well.

Describe and evaluate the physical characteristics of the property, its integrity, and its significance within the context of the historic district (or individually for preliminary determinations of individual listings).

BUILT CIRCA 1880, THE HOUSE REFLECTS THE VERNACULAR VICTORIAN ARCHITECTURE TYPICAL OF THIS PORTION OF THE ST. MICHAELS HISTORIC DISTRICT. SOME MINOR CHANGES HAVE TAKEN PLACE ON THE EXTERIOR INCLUDING THE INSTALLATION OF ASBESTOS SHINGLES OVER WOOD SIDING AND THE SCREENING OF THE FRONT PORCH. THE INTERIOR HAS HAD SUBSTANTIAL ALTERATIONS INCLUDING THE REMOVAL OF ORIGINAL INTERIOR FIRST FLOOR WALLS AND THE INSTALLATION OF A NEW STAIRCASE. THESE CHANGES MAY HAVE TAKEN PLACE DURING THE 1920'S REHAB.

THIS HOUSE CONTRIBUTES TO THE DISTRICT PRIMARILY THROUGH ITS FORM, FENESTRATION AND ORIENTATION TO THE STREETSCAPE.

5. Description of physical appearance:
 House is located in Registered Historic District. Typical two story 'waterman's' dwelling, originally 16'x20', mortise and tenon joinery, clapboard siding constructed between 1805-1820. Modified and expanded in the 1880's and again in the 1920's to 34'x20', with 3 additional rooms, indoor plumbing, asbestos siding and front porch with simple Victorian motif. Significant details include heart of pine flooring(1 room, 2nd floor), two over two rectangular pane windows, and mortise & tenon joinery.

6. Statement of significance:
 Located in St. Michaels Historic District, three doors west of St. Mary's Square Museum. House is generally clasified as a waterman/shipyard worker's dwelling. The original house (16'x20') is characteristic of the size, location and materials utilized at that time to construct homes for the workmen employed by the dozen or so shipyards on St. Michaels Harbor. Chestnut Street is one of the first residential streets leading from St. Mary's Square (which originated in 1778), and was the location of numerous shanties. This house, with its original size of 16'x20', mortise and tenon joinery, low first floor ceiling and general location, is thought to be one of those original one story shanties constructed between 1805 and 1820.

NOTES Deed reads as follows: Begins at Dr. John Miller on SOUTH side of Chestnut Street; run EAST 30 feet along the street to EDWARD WILLEY; run NORTH with Willey 120 feet; then WEST 30 feet; then SOUTH 120 feet to the beginning.

The deed is faulty in that the lot is on the NORTH side of Chestnut Street.

Dr. John Miller is given as an adjacent lot owner on West side in 1916, 174/274 and Edward Willey bought the adjacent half of lot 30 in 1852. If the courses are followed, the lot could only be on the NORTH side of Chestnut Street. No other transfer of property to William Burns on Chestnut Street was found.

According to the deed, in 1856 the late Rigby Valliant sold Thomas H. Fairbanks a "HOUSE AND LOT". Fairbanks gave only notes for the transaction. After death of Rigby, James Valliant, the administrator never gave Fairbankls a deed. By court order it is sold to Burns at auction.

Braddock had used Gildart & Gawith's money to purchase the land on which he laid out St Michaels and its original 58 lots and had apparently never remitted any of his sales moneys to England because of the war and his death in 1782. It must have been a true "gentlemen's agreement" which resulted in the several deeds between John Thompson and James Wignal which resulted in John Thompson getting title to the future "Thompson's Addition Wignal getting title to the remaining unsold land of Braddock, and Braddock's original customers being allowed to keep their lots, or sell them to Wignal--- and all without going to court!!
