Lewis Ross House
St. Michaels
Private

c. 1881

The Lewis Ross house falls into a broad group of mid to late nineteenth century two-and-a-half story, center hall, single-pile frame dwellings erected during the post Civil War era. Sheathed with German siding, the house is marked by a cross-gable roof, and it is lighted by four-over-four sash windows. Located in the center of St. Michaels, the dwelling adds to the nineteenth character of Grace Street.

The chain of title for this property indicates the house was erected about 1881 for Lewis E. Ross, who purchased the vacant lot in that year for $75. The 1877 St. Michaels map indicates the lot was unimproved at that time and presumably remained so until the Ross transfer. Lewis Ross sold the house and lot in 1909 to Thomas E. Carey for $525, an appropriate sum for the time.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The Lewis Ross house stands at 102 Grace Street Street in the center of St. Michaels, Talbot County, Maryland. The two-and-a-half story, five-bay frame dwelling faces north with the main gable roof oriented on an east/west axis.

Built around 1881, the two-story, cross-gabled frame dwelling rests on a low brick foundation, and the house is sheathed with a layer of German siding. The house is covered by a medium pitched asphalt shingle roof. Extending southward from the main block is a single story service wing.

The north (main) elevation is a symmetrical five-bay facade with a center entrance and flanking four-over-four sash windows. A heavily molded four-panel front door is topped by a three-light transom. Five evenly spaced four-over-four sash windows light the second floor. Each window is flanked by a pair of louvered shutters. Piercing the cross gable is a pointed arch four-pane window.

Rising through each gable end are interior end brick chimneys. The gable ends of the roof are finished with extended eaves with short returns at the base.

A single story wing extends to the rear.

The interior was not seen.

NOTES: Lease. This is a lease for 10 years for a lot on "Polk Alley" or Grace Street. It begins at the NW corner of Francis Townsend; runs with the alley to the NE corner of James Harrison; with Harrison to W. W. Bruff; with Bruff to the SW corner of Townsend; with Townsend to the beginning.

This description fits this lot but there are no transactions on record between it and the 1881 sale by the Harrington heirs.

Deeds showing acquisition of the property on Grace Street by Nathan Harrington have not been found.

The land was originally purchased by John Bruff from James Braddock and John Thompson. (1781, 21/223; 1790, 24/52; 1791, 24/276)

Nathan Harrington, Sr. married Ann Bruff daughter of John Bruff; Nathan Harrington, Jr. married his cousin Sallie Ann Bruff, daughter of Thomas Bruff. Thomas Bruff was the oldest son of John Bruff. If the property passed by inheritance there would have been no requirement for deeds of record.

Harrington wills have not been found. There is refernce to a will of Ann M. Harrington (1879, 88/139) but this is not in the Talbot County Courthouse
