Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The Charlie Faulkner house is located on the west side of Barneck Road in the village of Barneck on Tilghman Island, Talbot County, Maryland. The house makes an L footprint, but the principal gable appears to be oriented on a north/south axis.

Built between 1890-1900, this two-story, frame house is clad in weatherboard, and the roof is covered with multicolored asphalt shingles. The foundation consists of brick piers.

The west (main) facade has three bays with a central door flanked by six-over-six sash windows on the first floor. The door appears to have had a portico at one time. The second floor is lit by three six-over-six sash windows. The windows have wide surrounds, and the house has plain cornerboards.

The four bay, south elevation has two western bays which are capped by the gable roof of the primary wing. These western bays are lit by six-over-six sash windows on the first and second floors. An interior brick chimney stack pierces the roof of this south gable end. A porch with turned supports and an extended eave with exposed rafter ends stretches across the first floor. The eastern end of this porch is enclosed and lit by six-light casement windows. The two second story, eastern bays are six-over-six sash windows. The first floor eastern bays consist of an entrance door and the porch enclosure.

The one bay wide east gable end has two modern casement windows inserted on the first floor. An interior chimney rises above this east gable end. The east elevation of the primary wing has two six-over-six sash windows on the second story. A modern, shed roof addition acts as the central bay of the first floor.

The north gable end has no windows, and an interior chimney pierces the roof.

The interior was not seen.

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

Charlie Faulkner lived in this house and operated a store and post office in the village of Barneck in the early 1900s. He also operated an oyster and crab packing house on a small shell island in Broad Cove until the 1920s. The Charlie Faulkner house is located on a narrow strip of land which stretches from Black Walnut Cove to Barneck Road. It is an example of early 20th century vernacular architecture and contributes to the village of Barneck
