Description

This is a two story Foursquare frame structure with a hip roof and dormers covered with asphalt shingles. It is a four bay structure with retro-fitted eight pane metal windows. There is a small porch on the east side of the house. The exterior is covered with white aluminum siding, the house sits on a poured concrete foundation and there is a two story garage on the property. The house does appear on the 1908 Sanborn map, and represents Hancock's building boom of the early 20th century.
