Description

This is a two story frame Colonial Revival style house. The hip roof and dormers are covered with metal standing seam. It is a three bay structure with six over one and four over one window pane units. There is a wrap-around porch with the original balustrade and columns. The exterior is covered with white aluminum siding and the house sits on a stone foundation. There is a one-and-a-half story block garage on the property. It is typical of the residential architecture of Hancock's early 20th century boom.
