Description

This is a one-and-a-half story frame Bungalow with a gable-shed roof covered with asphalt shingles. It is a three bay structure with one over one windows. Across the front is a porch with original battered posts on piers. The exterior is covered with German siding and the foundation is concrete block. There is also a breezeway and one stall garage attached to the house. There are two small frame outbuildings, storage shed type structures, on the property. It represents the later phase of Hancock's major growth period.
