

Maryland Inventory of Historic Properties

Addendum

MIHP Number: WA-I-041

Property Name: Funk-Mong Farm
Property Address: 10814 Mapleville Rd (MD-66)
Smithsburg, Maryland

Survey Date: April 2007

This Maryland Inventory of Historic Properties (MIHP) Addendum was prepared in accordance with the Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) negotiated among H.B. Mellott Estate, Inc., the Water Management Administration Mining Program Maryland Department of the Environment, and the Maryland Historical Trust. A stipulation of the MOA required that an MIHP Addendum be prepared for each of the 14 properties nearby to the John Lung Farmstead (WA-II-149), which have a history or potential significance similar to the John Lung Farmstead.

This Addendum includes the property name, address, MIHP number, and a brief, one-to-two sentence comment on the property's condition, and one or more black and white photographs. Each photograph was printed in accordance with the photography requirements of the Maryland Historical Trust. The field survey and photography were conducted from the public right of way.

As of April 2007, the Funk-Mong Farmhouse had undergone some renovation work (i.e. window repair) and is currently in use. It is in good condition. The small, three-bay, one-story structure of stucco over brick located just south of the house is not longer extant. The stone spring house was not visible from the public right-of-way. The large stone end barn is good condition.

DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The "Funk-Mong" house is located along the west side of Maryland Route 66, about one mile north of Mt. Aetna in Washington County, Maryland. It is situated near a small spring and faces east.

The house is a five-bay, two-story brick structure with white trim. A four-bay kitchen wing, one story in height extends to the rear or west of the house. Observation of the interior of the building revealed that the el is a later addition. The walls at the facade of the house are laid in Flemish bond, while other walls display common bond brick work. The building is set on low limestone foundations. A water table of quarter round bricks extends along the facade.

The windows are not placed symmetrically in the facade. The openings of the three north bays are placed more closely together than the other openings in the front wall. First story windows contain twelve-over-twelve light sashes within frames trimmed with a narrow architrave. The second story windows contain nine-over-six pane sashes which appear to be joined with pegs. Many panes contain early, if not original glass. All windows are topped with flat brick arches.

The main entrance is located in the center bay of the facade. The opening has a semi-circular arched top and is lined with paneled jambs. Eleptical reeded pilasters flank the entrance way. The door enters into a large room. The main stair is located opposite the front door in a back hall, behind a double arched opening.

Other entrance ways include an opening to the cellar in the south foundation which is topped with a brick semi-circular arch. The rear addition contains randomly spaced doors and windows.

At the facade the eaves are finished with a fairly elaborate cornice consisting of a row of ⁹deils topped with modillions.

The roof is of corrugated sheet metal which was at one time painted black. Brick chimneys rise from inside each gable end. A third flue is located inside the west gable of the kitchen wing.

A one-story porch which is not original extends along the facade of the house. It is supported by round doric columns.

The house stands on a 619-acre tract of land. At present it is vacant and deteriorating although it is structurally sound. No substantiated date for construction has been found.

Other buildings present include a small three-bay, one-story structure of stucco over brick, located just south of the house. The building has a finished interior and may have been a dwelling. A stone spring house with an arched opening stands nearby. A large stone end barn is located west of the house.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The major significance of this house is its architecture. Although there has been no information found to indicate the year the dwelling was built, it does appear to be an early example of Washington County's brick architecture. It has received only minor exterior alteration.

Patent records of Washington County indicate that it probably stands on a tract of land called "Fertile Valley" which was resurveyed for Jacob Mong on March 20, 1812 and patented on July 29, 1814. The grant contained 329-3/4 acres.¹ The portion of the property on which the house stands remained in the possession of the Mong family until 1897.

The house is outstanding for several rather unusual architectural features, including its fine original exterior woodwork, its exterior window and door placement and its floor plan. The house is one of a few brick structures in the County with molded watertables.

The "Funk-Mong" house is definitely worthy of further study and consideration for preservation and restoration work.
