DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (if known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This house is located a short distance southwest of Trovinger Mill Road about 3/4 mile west of Maryland Route 62 in Washington County. It is situated on an area of level ground and faces southwest toward a small stream.

The structure is a two-story, three-bay brick dwelling, painted red with white trim. A one-story brick lean-to addition is attached to the front elevation, enclosing a section of the porch.

The walls are set on low foundations and appear to employ all stretcher bonding. The windows have narrow framing and hold six-over-six pane double-hung sashes.

The roof is covered with sheet metal and extends beyond the end walls of the house. A modern flue is located inside the northwest gable end. A one-story porch extends along the southwest and southeast elevations.

The house is in good condition and stands on a tract containing 92.60 acres.

A short distance southwest of the house is a small springhouse of rubble fieldstone. A barn and other farm buildings are located southeast of the house.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE
The area of significance of this house is its architecture. It is an example of Washington County's 19th century vernacular building. Further research into the building could reveal that it is an altered example of an earlier log house. A dwelling is pictured on this site on an 1859 map of Washington County with J. P. Stotler listed as the owner.
