Baer-Strite House
Hagerstown Vicinity
Private

1907

The Baer-Strite House is a perfectly preserved duplex house of the early twentieth century. This form is common in the Hagerstown area, but most have been altered in form, materials, or plan. The Baer-Strite House has a four bay main elevation with an entry porch on chamfered posts. The stone foundation and slate roof, combined with the brick exterior, convey a solid, well-built impression. A small frame extension at the rear is probably contemporary with the brick section.
