Description:

This one and a half story, three bay stuccoed framed structure has bungaloid features, but may be an early 20th century vernacular house modified in the 1920s or '30s to look like a bungalow. The dominant feature is a large gabled front wall dormer with a pair of doubled sash windows. The house is two bays wide with a triple front main level window and a door. A hip roofed porch extends across the front.

This house reflects the 20th century development that occurred both south and north of Baltimore Street in Funkstown.
