Description:

This brick house is a two story, three bay structure built with common bonding at all elevations. Front windows have segmental brick arches. Other windows have flat wood lintels. The segmental arches are typical of the 1880s and 1890s while the wood lintels are typical of the 1850s-1870s period. The main entrance is located in the center bay of the front elevation behind an across-the-front porch that has been partially enclosed. This building may have received an updating of the facade in the 1890s.

A building is identified in this location in the 1877 Atlas map of Funkstown as owned by J. Furray.
