Description:

This two story, four bay aluminum sided house is located on the southeast corner of Antietam and Poplar Streets. It is a shed roofed structure with its main character-defining feature being an elaborate bracketed cornice. Windows have two over two pane sash with arched tops. The main entrance is located in the second bay from the north end of the house. There is a one story gable roofed kitchen wing to the rear. An early 20th century porch supported by square posts extends across the front.

This is one of several Italianate style buildings in Funkstown, and one of only a few located off the Main Street.

According to the 1877 Atlas map, this was the property of J. Flora.
