Approximate date 1870-1890

Description:

This two story, five bay frame house is influenced by the Victorian Gothic style. It is covered with aluminum siding. Windows have single pane sash beneath pointed architraves with decorative trim. A character-defining feature is the central cross gable with decorative cut shingles. The main entrance is located in the central bay of the front elevation. The three bay entrance porch has a pedimented central section with carved trim. The porch is supported by turned posts.

Although this house appears to date from the 1880s, a house is shown on this property in the 1877 Atlas map for Funkstown. It belonged to J. Gross.
