Approximate date c. 1890

Along Maugansville Road, at the south edge of the village is this aluminum sided frame house. It is has a four bay facade, with the two first floor southern bays modified to form a picture window. The main entrance is located in the second bay from the north end of the front elevation. Windows have one over one light replacement sash. Shutters are of vinyl or aluminum. A one story porch across the front is supported by metal columns. A one story enclosed porch extends to the south. A concrete block retaining wall defines the edge of the property in front of the house. The date attribution for this house is based on its balloon frame construction and its overall form.

Although it has modern exterior finishes, this turn of the century period house reflects Maugansville's main era of development. The town experienced a period of significant growth in the early 20th century related to several agricultural industries, such as grain processing and hatcheries, and also served as a retirement community for local farmers.
