Approximate date Ca. 1900-1910

This substantially altered house is located on the east side of Maugansville Road and faces west. It is a two story, three bay frame building covered with vinyl siding. A two story portico supported by square columns has been added at the front. Windows and trim have been replaced and now have single pane sash. The door and trim have also been replaced, although the door may remain in its original location. A two story extension is attached to the rear of the building. A poured concrete retaining wall defines the front yard of this property. Although its integrity is gone, this property is part of Maugansville's main growth period in the early 20th century. The date attribution is based on the light frame construction and overall form of the house along with its similarity in setting and placement to its neighbors.
