Approximate date Ca. 1920s

This gable fronted bungaloid house is located on the southwest corner of Village Mill Drive and Alpine Drive. It is a three bay wide frame building covered with vinyl siding. It is one and a half stories high with a large south-facing gabled dormer. Windows at the front elevation are doubled, and all have single pane sash. A character defining feature is a hipped roof porch extending across the front supported by tapered square posts resting on brick piers with corbeled panels. The front yard of the house is defined by a poured concrete retaining wall which marks a drop in ground elevation toward the rear of the property. The cellar is therefore above ground level at the back of the house. This house represents Maugansville's main growth period in the early 20th century.
