This bungalow is located on the northeast corner of Leona Ave. and Village Mill Drive. It has typical features of bungalows with one and a half stories and an overhanging gabled roof which encompasses porches, front and rear. Shed dormers protrude from each slope of the roof. The house is of brick construction resting on rock-faced concrete block foundations. The framed area within the gables has been covered with vinyl siding. A small frame projecting bay extends from the south gable wall. The front elevation consists of a three part window and a door. The window has a six over one light sash flanked by two, four over one light sash. Other windows have six over one sash and are single or doubled. A brick chimney extending from the interior of the house has a corbeled top. The porches are supported by tapered square posts resting on brick piers. This is a good example of a bungalow and represents Maugansville's main growth period in the early 20th century. A block garage is located behind the house.
