Approximate date Ca. 1890

Located on the southwest corner of Leona Ave. and Village Mill Drive is this two story, three bay frame house covered with vinyl siding. The first and second story fenestration patterns at the front elevation do not match at all, suggesting either that there have been changes or that the second floor was added. At the second story there are three windows across the front; and at the first story, there is only a door and a window. The door is not aligned with either of the windows above it. A one story, two bay kitchen wing is attached to the south gable end. Windows have two over two pane sash with architraves with pointed or peaked tops indicative of the 1890s period. The main entrance is trimmed like the windows. Across the front is a shed roofed porch supported by turned posts which appear to be replacements. A porch in front of the kitchen wing has turned posts that appear to be original, as suggested by their heftier proportions. The kitchen wing has a window and door, trimmed similarly to other openings. The roof of the main portion of the house is slate. A brick chimney with a corbeled top extends from the interior of the house. A poured concrete retaining wall defines the edge of the property. This house is representative of Maugansville's main development period in the late 19th and early 20th centuries.
