This frame foursquare style house is located on the east side of Village Mill Drive. It has a two bay wide front elevation and has the characteristic foursquare design with a square shape, hipped roof and dormers. It is covered with asbestos shingle siding and rests on rock-faced concrete block foundations. Windows have single pane sash and are set within architraves with molded flat tops. The first story front window is larger than the others. Hip roofed dormers extend from the roof. Across the front is a porch supported by round Doric columns. A brick chimney with a corbeled top extends from inside the west wall. The date attribution is based on the period of popularity of the foursquare style. This building, one among many along Village Mill Drive reflects the early 20th century growth of the village.
