Approximate date Ca.1910

This house, one of the larger and more substantial in Maugansville, is of brick construction and appears to date from approximately 1910. It is a two story, five bay building with a central entrance, retaining an overall Georgian-influenced form. Character defining features include semi-hexagonal projecting bays at the south end of the front (east) elevation and on the south gable end, cast stone lintels and sills, and the across-the-front porch with Tuscan Doric columns on cast stone piers. Windows have single pane sash, and the entrance includes a transom over the door. Most windows have pairs of louvered shutters. Behind the house is a gabled frame garage covered with German siding. At the front edge of the yard is an iron pipe and wire fence mounted on a poured concrete retaining wall. The construction date attribution is based on the all stretcher brickwork, the cast stone lintels, projecting bays, small chimneys and porch. The house is indicative of Maugansville's early 20th century development.
