Approximate date Ca. 1900

This traditional two story, three bay frame house is located on the east side of Village Mill Drive at the south side of Maugansville village. It has a central entrance and a two story kitchen extension. The house is covered with German siding. Windows have two over two pane sash beneath architraves with molded flat tops, characteristic of the early 20th century. Windows are embellished with pairs of louvered shutters. The entrance has been modified with a 1930s-40s (or later) Colonial Revival pediment. A distinctive feature is the inset kitchen porch at the rear of the house, which retains an old hand pump for the cistern. Brick chimneys with corbeled tops are located inside the gable ends. Except for the modifications to the entrance, the house maintains a high level of integrity. According to local informants it was associated with the Cumberland Valley Hatchery business, which was located immediately east of the property.
