Description of Property and Eligibility Determination: (Use continuation sheet if necessary and attach map and photo)

Located in the crossroads community of Huyett on the National Pike, this 2-½ story, wood frame single family residence was built in 1920. Colonial Revival in style, this house has an asymmetrically plan with one-story full width porch, hipped roof featuring a front facing gable with diamond wood shingles and a fanlight window in the raked pediment. The roof has hipped roof dormers and asphalt shingles.

Built by Wilbur Cushen, the house is one of several built along the National Pike in the early twentieth century in the community of Huyett. The house retains enough integrity and significance to be considered eligible for the National Register of Historic Places under criteria A and C as an example of a transitional style house in the Huyett Community.

Prepare both a one paragraph summary and a comprehensive description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

Located on the south side of US 40 (the National Pike) in the crossroads community of Huyett, this 2 ½ story, frame single family residence was built in 1920. This Colonial Revival style house sits on a stone foundation and features an asymmetrically plan, hipped roof with a front facing gable with fanlight window and diamond wood shingles in pediment. The decorative details include large dentils under the wide eaves. The roof has hipped roof dormers and asphalt shingles. The house has a one-story full width porch with simple columns, a wood entrance door with single light. The wood windows have one over one configuration and paneled shutters. According to the owner, the house has cypress siding. A later porch is attached to the rear of the house. Located behind the house is a 2-story frame outbuilding that has been converted to a beauty salon.

Prepare a one-paragraph summary statement of significance addressing applicable criteria, followed by a narrative discussion of the history of the resource and its context. (For compliance projects, complete evaluation on a DOE Form – see manual.)

According to the owner, Larry Corbett this house was built in 1920 by Wilbur Cushen. This house is eligible for the National Register of Historic Places under Criteria as it retains enough integrity to convey its significance as an example of an early twentieth century domestic structure embodying characteristics of the Colonial Revival style. It is also eligible for the National Register of Historic Places under Criteria A for its association with Huyett, a crossroads community that developed along the National Pike. Research does not indicate that this house was associated with personages of historical importance on local, state or national level.
