Located in the crossroads community of Huyett on the National Pike, this 2-1/2 story, 3 bay frame single family residence was built in 1921 according to the tax records. Now covered with synthetic siding, this house features a few characteristics of the Colonial Revival style. Although side gabled, this house has a prominent centered cross gable with fishscale wood shingles and Palladian window and decorative crossbracing. The house has a asymmetrical plan, a bay window and one-story full width porch with simple wood columns. The entrance is off centered and has a vinyl clad replacement door. The windows have also been replaced with vinyl clad windows. The house has a standing seam metal roof. A one-car garage with a pyramidal roof is located on the east side of the house and is clad with vinyl siding.

According to the owner, Wilbur Cushen who lived next door at 16517 National Pike built this house in 1921. The house has been significantly modified and has lost the necessary integrity to be considered eligible for the National Register of Historic Places.
