DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

This farm complex includes a two story, three bay log house sheathed with aluminum siding. Extending to the rear is a two story, two bay stone addition. The general form and proportions of the log section suggests that it may have been built during the late 18th century, though further examination of the structure is necessary before a date can be established. A secondary dwelling near the main house is a two story stuccoed stone building with an exterior stone chimney finished at the top with brick. Also present is a large frame bank barn and a spring house. A large spring is present near the complex as well as numerous stone outcrops and stone fences.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

This complex could date from the 18th century although further research is necessary to establish when the main house was constructed. One out-building is worthy of note. It has an exterior chimney of stuccoed stone. This type of chimney construction is unusual in Washington County although several examples appear in the Downsville vicinity.
