BUILDING DATE: late 19th/early 20th century

216 East Main Street is a north-facing, horizontally massed, symmetrical, five-bay, two-and-a-half-story, L-shaped, frame, freestanding, residential structure. The building is set back from the public-right-of-way above a stone retaining wall and is covered with manufactured siding. The standing-seam, side-gable roof has open eaves and one endwall brick chimney. The entrance is located in the center bay. A flat-roof, open porch extends across the facade of the building and is supported by turned posts. Fenestration consists of double-hung, two-over-two windows. The center bay of the second floor holds a door. There is a screened-in porch on the west elevation toward the rear of the house and a hexagonal, two-story bay toward the front of the house.

Based on the style of the building, it appears to have been constructed in the late 19th/early 20th century. It is noted on the 1922 Sanborn as 525 East Main. The building currently houses the Country Touch (a shop).

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the probable Development Period of Industrial/Urban Dominance, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture and Community Planning.
