BUILDING DATE: 1940s?

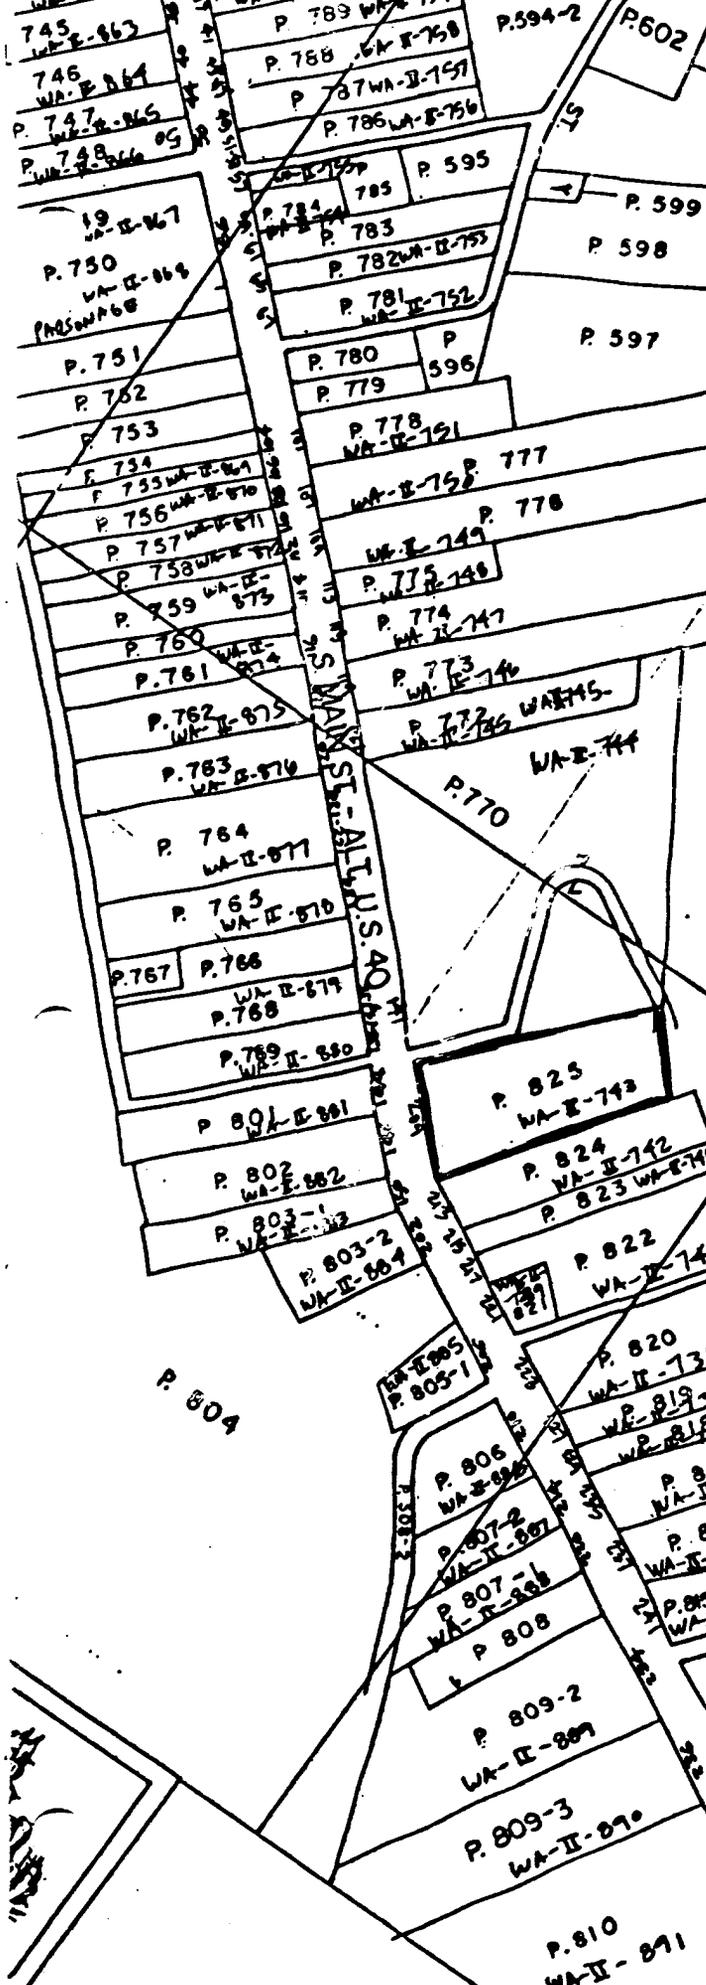

209 South Main Street is a west-facing, horizontally massed, one-story, freestanding, rambler, residential structure. The building, which is set on a hill above the roadway, has a front facade covered in stone and side elevations in brick. The gable roof is covered in artificial roll.

A building is shown on this site on the 1877 map of the town. The Sanborn maps do not indicate this section of town. Based on the style of the building, it appears to have been constructed in the 1940s.

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the Modern Development Period, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and Community Planning.
