BUILDING DATE: last quarter 19th century?

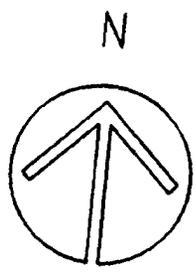

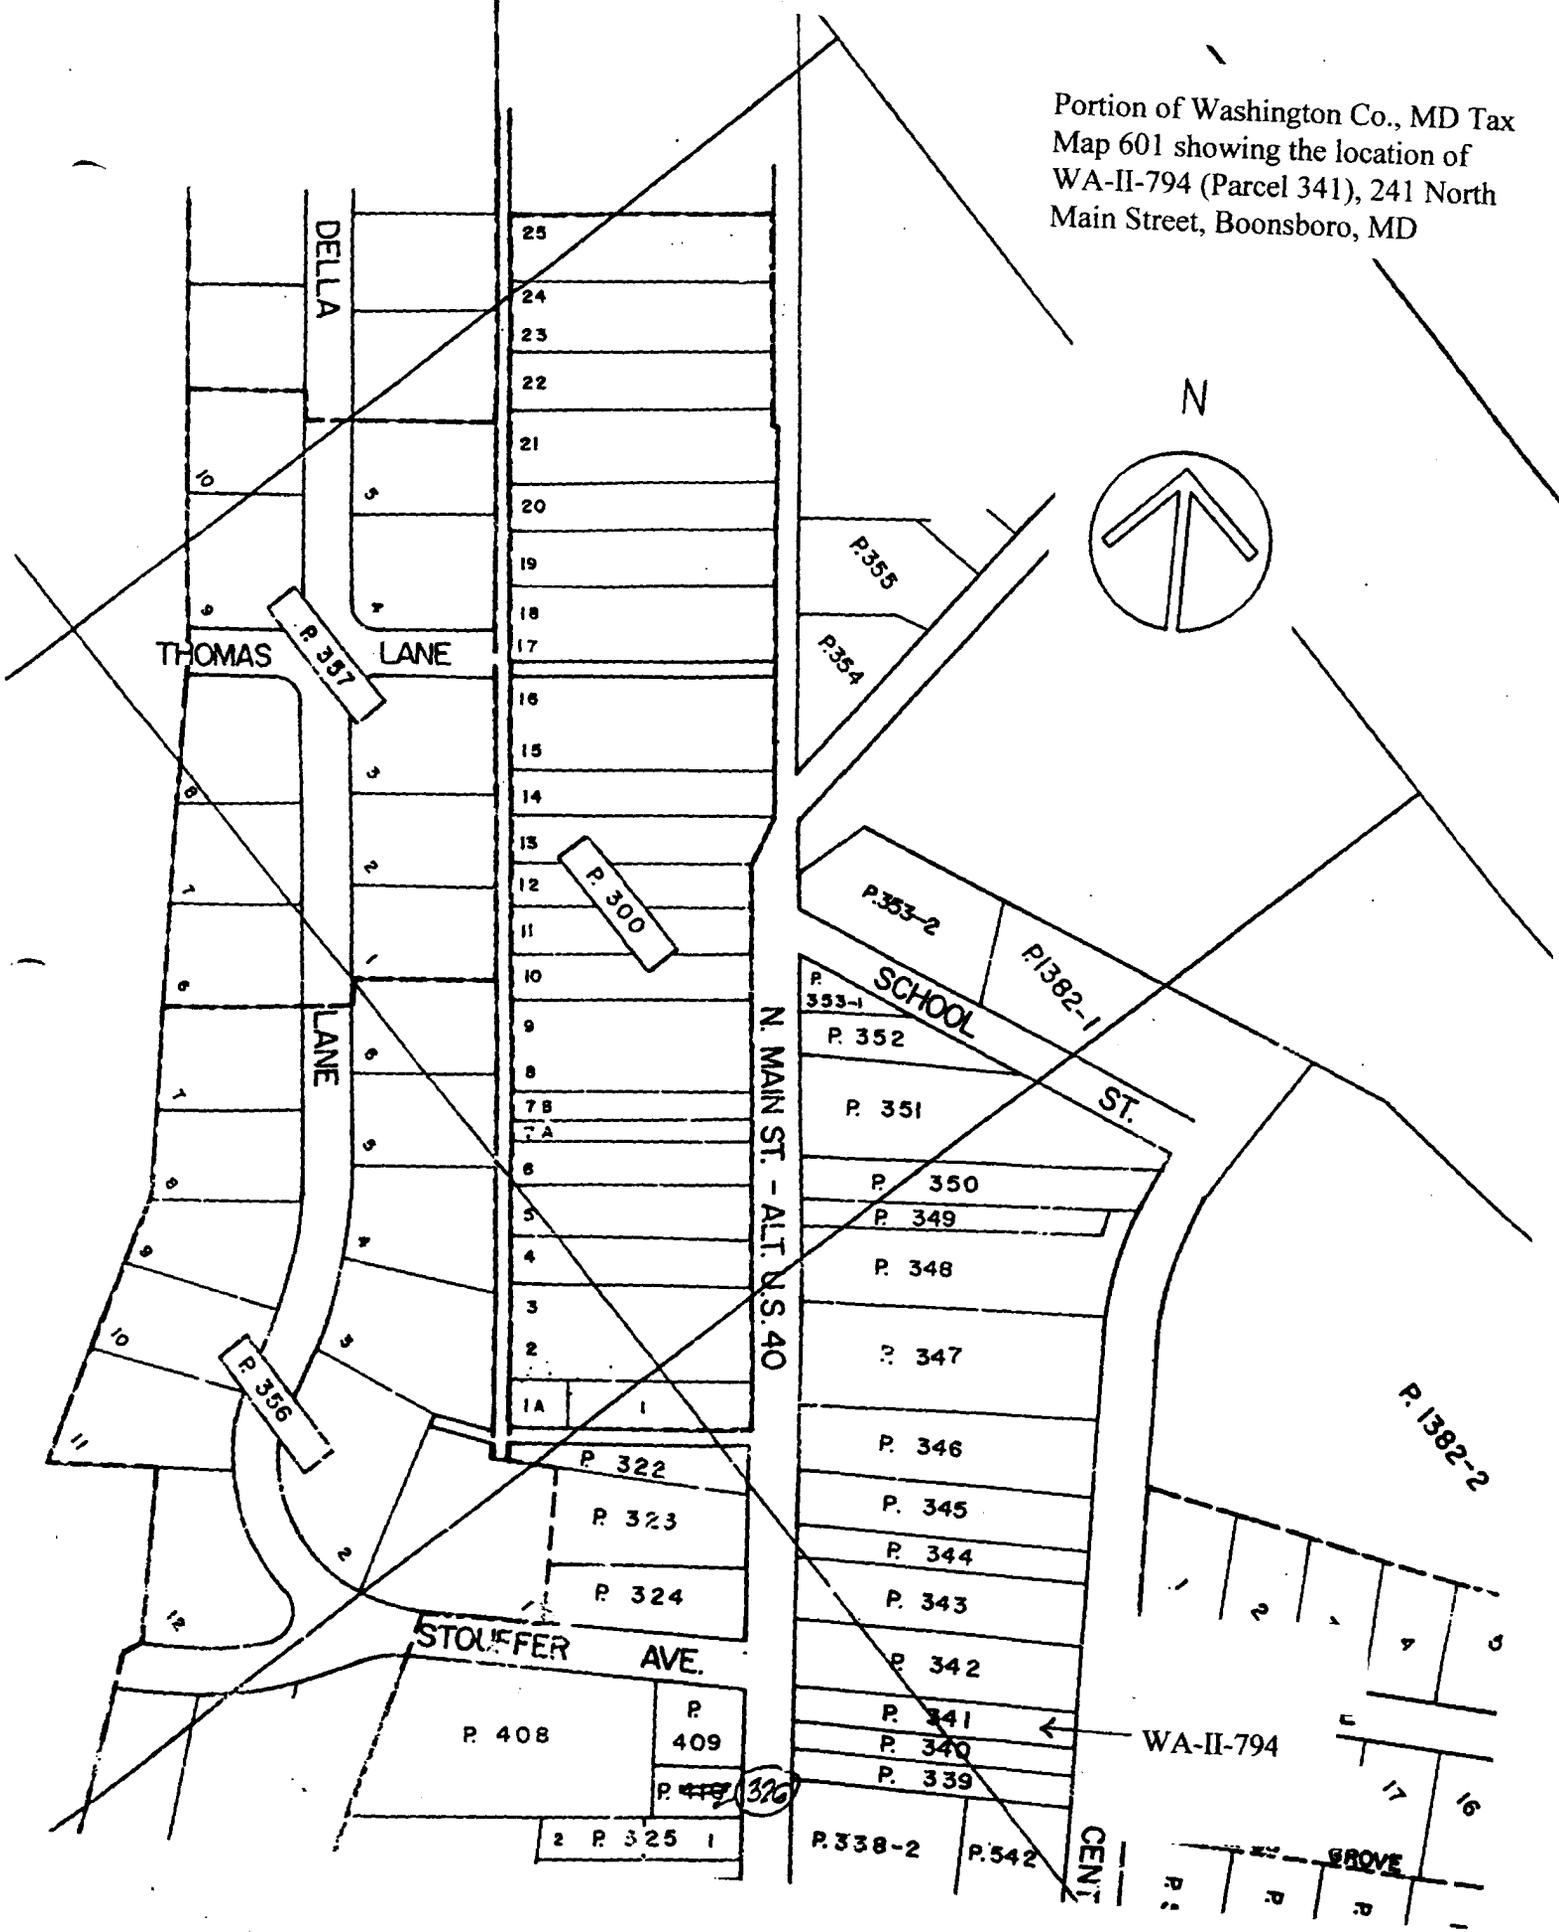

241 North Main Street is a west-facing, horizontally massed, two-and-a-half-story, three-bay, frame, freestanding, residential structure. The building, which is set directly at the public-right-of-way, has been covered with manufactured siding. It has a side-gable, tin roof with two rebuilt chimneys. A simple, shed-roof porch extends across the facade of the house and protects the center-bay entrance and a one-story bay window in the north bay. The entrance consists of a 1940s glazed door. Fenestration includes tall, double-hung, two-over-two sash windows with shutters. There are two one-story additions to the rear.

The 1897 Sanborn indicates that the house was then numbered 51 Main Street. No changes are indicated on any of the other maps.

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the probable Development Period of Industrial/Urban Dominance, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and Community Planning.
