119 Potomac Street is a south-facing, horizontally massed, two-and-a-half-story, three-bay, brick, freestanding, residential structure. The building, which is set directly at the public-right-of-way, rests on a stone foundation and is set in a flemish bond on the front facade and common bond on the other elevations. The structure, which has been painted red, has been sandblasted. It has a side-gable, tin roof with a single, massive bridged chimneys at the east endwall. The west-bay door is composed of five horizontal panels. The fenestration is double-hung, six-over-six sash with wood sills and lintels. All windows have shutters. The structure has a one-story rear addition.

A building without an addition is indicated on the 1877 map of the town. The 1910-1940 Sanborn maps show the building with its addition as 36 Potomac Street.

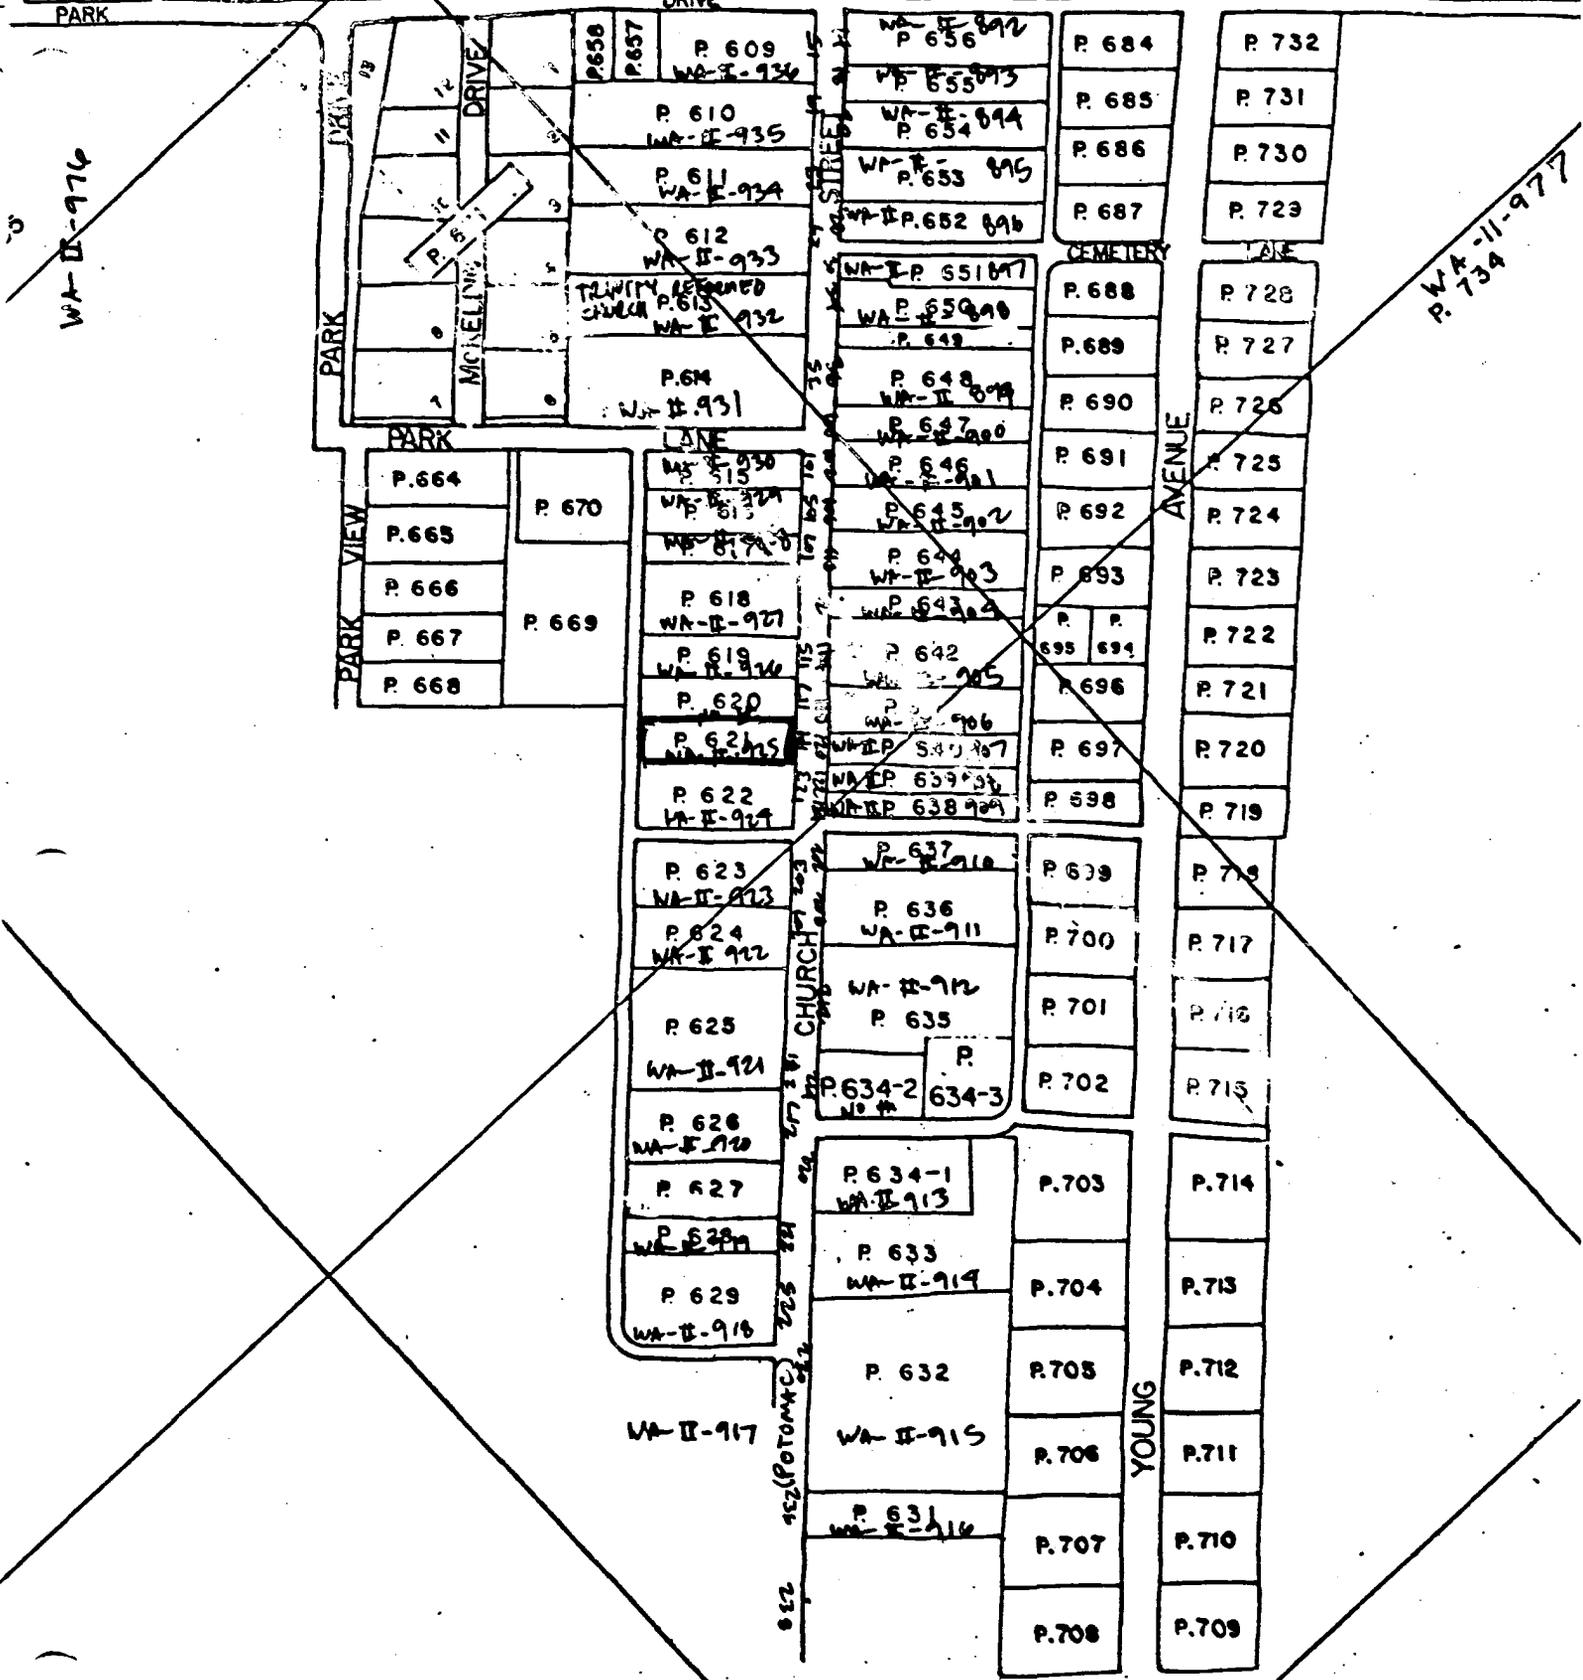

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the probable Development Period of Agricultural-Industrial Transition, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and Community Planning.
