Pleasant View Cemetery, partially enclosed with an iron post and chain fence, is located on an elongated rectangular lot extending to the north from Rohrersville School Road, between Main Street and the Route 67 bypass. The lot is on fairly high ground and wooded with cedar and pines. It is densely populated with limestone and marble monuments and markers dating from the second half of the 19th century. Many of the markers were probably made at the McCoy Marble Works which was located just to the west of the cemetery and which was one of the village's industries. The cemetery was purchased from Frederick Rohrer in 1882. It extends behind both the Bethel United Brethren Church and the Central United Brethren Church, both located on the east side of Main Street.
