72 South Main Street is an east-facing, square, symmetrical, two-and-a-half-story, three-bay, brick, freestanding, residential structure. The hipped roof is sheathed with an artificial roll covering; has one tall, corbelled, interior, endwall chimney, a wide frieze, and two pedimented dormer windows in each slope. A hipped roof, open porch once wrapped around the south and east elevations. However, the south elevation has been enclosed. The remaining portion is supported by Tuscan columns. The entrance is located in the center bay and consists of a glazed door with a segmentally arched glazed transom. The windows are single, segmentally arched, wooden sash, double-hung, twelve-over-one windows with roughcut stone sills and stone keystones in the brick segmental arches. The dormer windows are double-hung, nine-over-one sash. There is a side wing addition.

The building is set outside the original 1814 platted town limits and on a large empty parcel in 1875 (town map). The building is noted on the 1916 and 1923 Sanborns as 18 Mountain Road.

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the Development Period of Industrial/Urban Dominance, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture and Community Planning.
