ADDRESS: 7 Cumberland Street, Clear Spring, MD

OWNER/LOT NUMBER/ACCESS: Elizabeth A. Shupp, 866/37, private

BUILDING DATE: late 19th century, early 20th century

7 Cumberland Street is a north-facing, two-and-a-half-story, five-bay, brick, freestanding, residential structure. The building, which is set directly at the public-right-of-way, is laid in an orange brick set in black mortar in a running bond. There is a large, two-story, flat-roof bay at the northeast corner of the structure. The cross-gable roof of the main body of the house is covered with artificial roll and has a bracketed cornice and a single chimney. The entrance is located in the center bay and is protected by a hipped-roof porch that extends from the bay window to the other end of the building. The glazed and paneled door is surmounted by a single-light transom. Windows are set in stone segmental arches and are double-hung, one-over-one sash. The building has a two-story rear ell with a one-story addition. The yard contains a detached garage.

According to a history of the site prepared for the Clear Spring Historical Society by George Boyd, this building is on original lot 55 which was first sold by Martin Myer to Barry Nynemacher in 1825. A structure of a different configuration from the extant structure is noted on the 1877 map. The property was then owned by Mrs. Dodds. The 1922 Sanborn map indicates the existing building as 32 Cumberland. Based on the style and construction materials of the building, it was probably built at the turn of the century.

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the Development Period of Industrial/Urban Dominance, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and Community Planning.

WA-V-324
