ADDRESS: 215 Cumberland Street, Clear Spring, MD

OWNER/LOT NUMBER/ACCESS: David G. Netz, 676/278, private

BUILDING DATE: early 20th century?

215 Cumberland Street is a north-facing, horizontally massed, two-and-a-half-story, five-bay, brick, freestanding, residential structure. The building, which is set slightly back from the public-right-of-way, rests on a stone foundation and is laid in a running bond, painted white. The cross-gable, tin roof has two, endwall chimneys. A simple hipped-roof porch extends across the center three bays of the facade and is supported by tuscan columns. It protects the center-bay entrance. The entrance has an Italianate door which has tall round-arched panels topped by an arched, two-light transom. The composition is set deep into the wall. The fenestration is set in segmental arches and is double-hung, two-over-two sash, except in the attic where the windows are pentoid in shape. The house has several rear additions, some of which appear to have stood individually at one time before they were connected to the house. The sideyard has a wrought-iron fence.

A building is noted on this site on the 1877 map of Clear Spring as being owned by Sweitzer. It is shown on the 1922 Sanborn as 243 Cumberland Street. There is an outbuilding indicated on the map which has since been connected to the house.

The building is within the Western Maryland Geographic Organization, the probable Development Period of Industrial/Urban Dominance, and falls within the Historic Period Theme of Architecture, Landscape Architecture, and Community Planning.
