DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

Built in 1834 as a United Brethren Church, this brick building stands on the south side of East Salisbury Street. The walls at the front elevation are laid in Flemish bond. In the north gable is a round window which appears to be part of the original construction. According to the date tablet the church was rebuilt in 1901. At that time the long Gothic windows at the front were added and the entrance was changed. Evidence in the brick work of the earlier two tiers of rectangular openings can be seen. The steeple appears to be modern. The walls have been sandblasted.
